

As we recognize the important role of early intervention in cognitive development, more and more children use mobility bases at an earlier age. VARILITE JUNIOR seating and positioning products were designed with the knowledge that kids are not small adults—that's why we focused on the not-so-small details that make our products just for them.

The VARILITE JUNIOR line features size-appropriate seating and positioning items to support children in their mobility device, allowing them to go where their imagination takes them. By exploring their world, children can gain confidence, increased peer interaction and independence. And VARILITE JUNIOR seating systems are there to support them along the way.
